HEALING RETREATS

AYAHUASCA RETREAT
PREPARATION GUIDE

We are honored you'll be joining us for this beautiful and transformative medicine experience in the incredible Sacred Valley of Perú.

Each guest will partake in a 30-day preparation program before the retreat. This program is designed to help support you in properly preparing your mind and body to partake in powerful ceremonies with Ayahuasca. In the weeks or months before your retreat begins, it is common that emotional processes, intense dreams, and heightened sensitivities can arise as the medicine begins bringing things to the surface for us to witness and feel.

In the lead-up to the retreat, we will host a series of supportive one-on-one and small group therapeutic sessions, intention-setting workshops, sharing circles, and a nervous-system masterclass to help you expand your resources, attune more deeply with your body, and begin building safety and connection with your facilitators.

The wisdom of Ayahuasca can create profound transformations in our lives however it is not a magic pill or passive experience. To experience lasting growth and true evolution in relationship to this plant, you will be asked to show up with devotion to the preparations and with presence, reverence, and consistent effort to meet this sacred work. We look forward to diving into this beautiful work with each of you and supporting you each stage of your journey.

TRAVEL

- Our beautiful retreat center is located amidst the sprawling mountains in the Sacred Valley, 75 minutes outside of Cusco, Perú.
- To get to Cusco, all international flights first stop in Lima where you'll collect your bags, pass through customs and immigration, and re-check yourself in for a short 1-hour domestic flight to Cusco.
- We recommend paying close attention to your connection time in Lima, making sure you have no less than 2.5 hours to pass customs and re-check your bags. We highly recommend planning your trip to arrive in Lima before 5 pm so you can fly to Cusco the same day. The latest flight to Cusco is usually 7:30 or 8 pm.
- If you're traveling from the US and looking to save on costs, we recommend buying your international flight to Lima individually then buying the domestic Lima-Cusco flight on its own. This will usually save a few hundred dollars on ticket cost.
- Please know that to enter Peru you will need a valid passport that does not expire for at least 6 months, they will not let you board your flight if your exp date is within 6 months.
- Please arrive in Peru 1-2 days before the retreat begins. The travel to Peru is lengthy and you'll be arriving at 13,000 feet altitude. Giving yourself a few days to rest and acclimate before a week of intense medicine work is extremely helpful to meet the ceremonies with the energy you'll need.
- Cusco is a very safe and touristic city full of beautiful spas, indigenous markets, art, culture, trekking, and great restaurants.
- We offer a 50% discounted stay at a beautiful luxury boutique hotel, Antigua Casona San Blas. You may book a room with them for as many nights as you wish through their website using the code AnamCara. The rooms here sell out in advance so book early!
- The group pick-up will be on Day 1 of your retreat outside of this hotel between 1 and 2 pm. You will return to Cusco on Day 8 of the retreat around 1 pm and are welcome to fly out that same day after 3 pm however we do highly suggest resting in Cusco for a few days after the retreat as you may be feeling quite tired and energetically sensitive. It can be really helpful to honor the medicine work done by offering yourself a few days of rest before heading back to modern life.

HEALTH

It is important for you to know that when working with Ayahuasca, there are many very dangerous, or possibly even fatal, interactions between the medicine and other pharmaceutical medications, health conditions, and psychedelics. Your safety is our absolute number one priority. Upon reserving your space, you will fill out a health history and medication form to be reviewed by our medical team to ensure this medicine is a safe fit for you. If you have any questions about a past medication or condition, please reach out to us so we can discuss and get detailed information from you. The more you share with us, the better we can support you and ensure your safety.

It is of the utmost importance that you share all of your past and current medication use, health history, and significant family history with us, we ask you to be as thorough as possible on the form. If you forget any details, you may email them to us afterwards.

- Failure to disclose medications or health information can be extremely dangerous and could also disqualify you from being a participant as having trust in our relationship with you is imperative to this work. We appreciate your full honesty so we can keep everyone safe and focused on their healing.
- If you've ever had a heart condition, seizure, major surgery, or any mental health diagnosis (even if you do not agree with the diagnosis), please discuss the situation with us in detail. If for any reason we decide that working with Ayahuasca is not safe for you, we will refund your deposit to you in full (as long as the information was provided to us at the time of registration and much not later on).
- All vitamins and supplements (even if natural) should be discontinued for 2 weeks before your retreat to minimize uncomfortable side effects in the ceremony and ensure your connection to the medicine. Taking vitamins or supplements beforehand can lead to increased nausea and physical discomfort. If any of your vitamins serve a significant role in your health, please discuss with us what they are and we can see if it is possible for you to continue them safely up until the retreat time.
- Over-the-counter pain medications, NSAIDS (ibuprofen, Tylenol, Advil), cold and cough medications, OTC sleep aids, and Dramamine, cannot be taken within 2 weeks of the retreat.

SAFETY

- Prescription medications vary greatly but will usually be required to be discontinued between 4-8 weeks before the retreat. We will review your prescriptions and work with you and your medical doctor to ensure collaborative care if you need to wean off or discontinue your medications.
- Use of any marijuana products (including CBD) must be stopped for 30 days before the retreat begins. Cannabis use does not mix well with Ayahuasca and can make it very difficult to connect with the medicine or have possible negative side effects for the entire group if brought into the space. We ask all of you to please adhere to this minimum 30-day requirement. If you feel it may be difficult for you or have any resistance to stopping marijuana usage, we are here to fully support you and offer alternatives to sleep or pain aids.
- Recreational drugs and other psychedelics such as mushrooms, MDMA, LSD, or other plant medicines (Bufo, Kambo, DMT,) can be extremely dangerous to mix with Ayahuasca. Please make sure you are completely clean from any drugs or other psychedelics for 30 days before and after the retreat so as to not cause risk in ceremony for yourself or for the maestros.
- For 30 days before and after your retreat, the Shipibo maestros ask that you do not participate in any other medicine ceremonies or energetic/shamanic journeys. The maestros you'll be working with have developed extreme sensitivity to energetics and to their medicine which allows them to do profound work on us in the ceremonies. We want to honor their devotion and their work by not diluting or mixing this experience with another healer or lineage which can cross the medicine.
- Alcohol use must be stopped for 2 weeks before your retreat. If you have any slip-ups, please simply let us know so we can adjust your dose if necessary.
- Please let us know on your intake form about any previous experience you've had with psychedelics or other plant medicines so we can best support you.

DIETA

We will all be following a 'dieta', or diet, in alignment with Ayahuasca and the Shipibo healers we will be working with. The dieta is an incredibly important part of working with Ayahuasca and can be a powerful learning experience as we begin to cleanse and let go of foods, substances, and behaviors that alter our authentic experience and body's natural rhythm. Working with Ayahuasca is, in many ways, a detox or cleansing of the physical, emotional, and spiritual body, helping us to purge densities, blockages, traumas, fears, toxins, or anything that is creating dissonance in our lives. Through cleansing and letting go, we may reach states of deep alignment and access the creativity, inspiration, focus, safety, clarity, deep love, and authentic expression that naturally resides within each of us.

The Shipibo Maestros we have the honor of working with on your retreat go through many years, or often decades, of rigorous isolation and elimination diets, completely secluded in nature where they withhold from any and all technology, sex, salt, and nearly all foods except rice or plantains, and submerge themselves in nature for weeks to months at a time. This process of rigid elimination and isolation helps them develop incredibly deep levels of sensitivity so they may hear, learn, connect, and gain healing wisdom from the Amazonian healing plants. By developing this sensitive attunement with their own body and with nature, their sacrifice allows for their powerful healing gifts to develop. It is an incredibly difficult process of weakening their physical body in order to strengthen their spirit and acquire profound shamanic healing tools.

It is important that we cleanse ourselves before the retreat in order to experience Ayahuasca but also to avoid bringing energies into the ceremony space that could be harmful to the healers or the rest of the group. Showing up to the dieta with integrity is an energetically important way to show the healers and the spirit of Ayahuasca that you have done your part, are ready to receive deep healing and respect this sacred medicine.

For some, the dieta may be quite easy and for others, it may begin to stir up emotions, sensations, addictions, or parts within us that are greatly challenged by letting go of foods, behaviors, or even relationships that suppress, stimulate, or soothe us. We are here to support you during this shift and will help guide you in using any challenges that arise as useful insights into what is calling for your loving attention. The more we can cleanse ourselves before the retreat begins, the deeper the medicine can work within us and the less physical discomfort we'll experience in the ceremonies.

A month before your retreat begins, we highly recommend shifting to cleaner, healthier whole foods, eliminating processed foods, and being mindful of who and what activities you engage with as your energy will become more sensitive the closer you get to the retreat date.
